Entry restrictions

Every primary school in the whole of the United Kingdom is eligible to enter, regardless of whether they already participate in Living Streets' WOW – the walk to school challenge or not.

If the judges consider that no school merits the award of a prize, the prize will not be awarded. The competition is not open to employees or volunteers of Living Streets, their families, or anyone else directly associated with the competition.

Only complete competition entries will be valid for judging purposes. Only one entry will be accepted per pupil. Entries should be original designs and not breach any copyright law.

Entry conditions

Living Streets has the right to use content for promotional purposes for the duration of three years.

Living Streets has the right to display/publish content by means of the Living Streets' website, social media channels, print and press.

Living Streets has the right to contact the winner to discuss further use of the submission for the duration of three years.

Only complete competition entries will be valid for judging purposes and any material sent in as part of a competition entry cannot be returned to the entrant.

By entering you are confirming that you are not submitting any offensive content. Should it be deemed as inappropriate your entry will be removed from the competition.

The designs should be no larger than the templates provided and should not include any photographic images or representations of people. Designs should be hand drawn only.

SEND inclusion for whole school participation

We do our best to make WOW as inclusive as possible and we want all children to be able to participate in the badge design competition. However, we do understand that not all pupils might feel able to draw their entry or use our template form to do so. For this reason, when necessary to participate, we are giving pupils the option to enter using alternative formats. We encourage any format and are open to recommendations and feedback, but some suggestions are included below.

We're still asking each school to only send their top three entries. Alternative format entries are not considered additional entries.

Some alternative entry format suggestions include photography, photo of a model entry (using natural objects, Lego, or other modelling equipment), computer drawing/design, audio description, video description entry.

Alternative format entries should be submitted via email at badgecompetition@livingstreets.org.uk and NOT via our submission portal linked above. This is so we can accept larger file sizes if required.

When supporting pupils in to enter using the alternative formats, the following information will need to be included as part of the entry: pupil name, age, their answer to 'What did you choose to enter and why?', school email, school name and address, Local Authority. Answers to the above, along with any additional information deemed necessary, can be included in writing or as an audio clip by the pupil or by a staff member working with them on the task.

Judging criteria

The designs will be judged on creativity in line with the theme "Walk with Imagination" and the suitability of designs to be made into badges for manufacture.

Independence of the judging

The winning submissions will be selected by a panel of judges from Living Streets. Judging will be independently supervised, and judges will have no personal connection with any of the participating schools. The decision of the judges is final and no correspondence will be entered into regarding their decision.

Winner notification

The winner will be notified by email, post or telephone within two months of the deadline for entries (5 March 2024). If the winner cannot be contacted or is not available or does not want the prize, the judges reserve the right to select another winner from the eligible entries that were received before the closing date.
